

Presenting Our Featured Member...

Whistlestop Florist

Kimberly Hayes

Member Since January 2020 ~ Sponsor: Your Image Squad

Fresh flowers have been my muse since High School. Along the way I've learned and lived a lot of flowers, plants, clients and beyond. Giving our community and clients exceptional service, along with personalized design details, truly make Whistlestop Florist a preferred choice. We have won various awards over the years, including being named Best Florist by The Syracuse New Times.

Our team works tirelessly to provide each and every customer not only top notch service, but the best floral experience that they can have. We never look at a task as too big or too small to matter.

It's nice to work in an industry in which the products and services we provide bring happiness or comfort to others. We see firsthand the smiles on recipients' faces when we deliver a Whistlestop flower arrangement.

Now we have studies to support what we've known all along. Rutgers University recently conducted a 10-month behavioral study that explored the link between flowers and life satisfaction. Their findings show that flowers are a natural moderator of moods and have strong positive effects on emotional health.

Flowers and plants affect our living and work environments. They enhance our mood and overall wellbeing. They can also take us back to a special moment in time.

We are looking to increase our daily work, so the leads we desire are: Sympathy and Celebration of Life Arrangements or Plants; Green and Blooming Plants or Floral Arrangements for Birthdays, Anniversaries, New Baby, or Holidays; Silk Arrangements for Home or Office; Floral Arrangements for Special Events and Parties.